REALTY BOARD OPPOSES CONTROL OF STATE BODY BY ANY CORPORATION

Registers Against New Highway Commission Transference of $40,000,000 From Original Designation of Construction

CO. SUPERVISOR WRIGHT EXPLAINS ACTION

Regional Planning Is Discussed and Problems Confronting Board Through Demand for Sewer Facilities of Many Cities in the County

At the meeting of the Glendale Realty Board Thursday noon that organization went on record as opposing the placing of the California Real Estate association in any way under the control of the corporations of the state; it also registered against the new state highway commission deviating from the $40,000,000 highway improvement plan; it heard from Supervisor Henry W. Wright on the proposed regional planning commission; from Frazier O. Reed, president of the California Real Estate association, on the aims and plans of the organization's new administration; and from Glenn D. Willaman, secretary of the state organization and editor of the state board's paper, California Real Estate.

Supervisor Henry W. Wright was the first speaker introduced. He said in part:

"There is one question that is resting close to the hearts of many of us people of Los Angeles county, and that is the new state highway commission's attitude with regard to the expenditure of the $40,000,000 that was voted by the people a few years ago for the improvement of the highways of the state. Several of the Los Angeles county roads that were to be improved under this bond issue will be unimproved if the present highway commission has its way."

"We do not believe that the commission can lawfully divert these funds to other channels. The people voted that money for the improvement of certain highways, and it is my opinion that it can be used for no other purpose."

"My subject today is regional planning. The purpose of this commission will be to assist in the carrying out of the affairs of the county."

"I am sometimes asked, 'What is the most difficult problem with which the supervisors are confronted?' This is a question that is hard to answer. Sometimes I think it is the road problem, at others, flood control. Then when someone brings in a map of a tract that is laid out entirely wrong, I am inclined to think it is the plat problem. And there is the sewer question, which is very vital to this part of the county. All of these must be solved—but how? Glendale, Burbank, San Fernando, Covina, and many other territories are asking us to help them solve their sewer situations."

"On this planning commission we want men who will keep their feet on the ground; men who will not go off half-cocked; men who have a level head and who will work for the best interests of the county as a whole. The board reserves the right to select these five men, and they have not been appointed as yet. These men are to hold office for two years, and they will receive no compensation for their services. That is a question that was hard for us to solve—the pay or no pay question. The men who comprise this commission will have to be public spirited in the extreme. They will be big men and their time is valuable."

"The duty of this commission will be to be the go-between between the public and board of supervisors. It will do the preliminary work, and when they get through with a problem and it is passed on to the board of supervisors it will be pretty well worked out. This will enable the board to give more detail attention to all of the propositions with which it is confronted."

"Take, for instance, the matter of subdivisions. If you could sit with the supervisors for a day and see the trouble they have with ill-arranged plats, you would not wonder that some sort of a go-between organization is needed to weed out the 'chaif.' We have all kinds of propositions presented to us. One company wanted to lay out a piece of ground 160 acres in extent, and in this entire tract there was not a street, and the lots were 25x100 feet in size. Each individual property owner is looking after his own interests and we are compelled to be constantly on the lookout for the interests of the public at large."

"The regional planning commission will take care of most of this work. If the subdivider knows he will be compelled to live up to certain plain rules he will begin at once to do the things that are required of him. This commission will be subject to a general improvement scheme of flood control, drainage, and the like."

"I have in mind, now, the suggested metropolitan sewer system, which it is proposed to create in

CITY PARK COMMISSION IS CREATED

Council Passes Ordinance
Forming Body With Five Members

MORE PARKS, IS AIM Organization to Form Its Own Budget and Appoint Own Officials

A city park, playground and recreation center commission was created Thursday night by the Glendale city council, adopting an ordinance to that effect.

It was the idea of the council that Glendale needs such a body to appraise the area in Verdugo Woods and the recent purchase on the west side. The council, it is understood, intends to create other parks.

The substance of the ordinance follows:

Section 1. A park, playground and recreation center commission consisting of five members, whose powers and duties shall be as hereinafter provided, shall be appointed by the council and shall hold office at the pleasure of the council.

Sec. 2. Said commission shall appoint one of its members president, and shall appoint a secretary, who shall keep a record of its proceedings. Said commission shall have charge of all parks, playgrounds and recreation centers belonging to or maintained or operated by the city of Glendale; shall make and enforce all such rules and regulations consistent with the ordinances of the city of Glendale as may be necessary for the care, maintenance, use and protection of all such parks, playgrounds and recreation centers; and may cause any person violating any of said rules or regulations to be reprimanded and excluded from any of the parks, playgrounds or recreation centers wherein such violations occur, provided that such exclusion shall not continue longer than the day in which the violation occurs.

Sec. 3. Said commission shall appoint, subject to the approval of the city, a superintendent of playgrounds and such other officers and employees as may be provided by the ordinance for the division of parks. Said superintendent of playgrounds shall, subject to the order of the commission, organize and direct the use of all playgrounds and recreation centers owned, operated and maintained by the city of Glendale.

Sec. 4. Said commission shall recommend to the council from time to time such improvements for parks, playgrounds and recreation centers as it may deem advisable.

Sec. 5. All demands on the city treasury for liabilities incurred by said commission, including the salaries of the officers appointed by them, shall be presented to and approved by said commission before the same are paid. Said presentation shall be made in the same manner provided for the presentation of other demands upon the city treasury.

Sec. 6. Said commission shall before the last day of June of each year, prepare and present to the city manager for his consideration in preparing his annual budget, an estimate of the expenditures for the support of parks, playgrounds and recreation centers during the ensuing fiscal year.

MASS MEETING APPROVES RECOMMENDATIONS AND INSTRUCTS FOR BONDS

J. R. Grey Is Heard Ten Times Before He Leaves the Hall on Defeat of Opposition to the Measure

ALEX. MITCHELL MOVES VOTE OF THANKS

O. M. Newby Starts Meeting Into Action With Motion to Instruct Board of Education to Call Election for $500,000

The mass meeting at Wilson Avenue Intermediate Thursday evening in its final action approved the recommendations of the advisory committee of fifteen and on motion of O. M. Newby voted to instruct the board of education to call an election to vote bonds in the sum of $500,000 to satisfy the needs of the elementary schools of Glendale. It also, on motion of Alexander Mitchell, gave a vote of thanks to the advisory committee, supplemented by hearty applause.

About 300 were present when the meeting was called to order at 8 o'clock by the chairman, W. E. Hewitt, who exhibited the greatest patience and courtesy toward the very few who blustered and claimed the floor repeatedly.

J. R. Grey, who spoke ten times, opposed all large expenditures for schools in the southern section of the city, steadily contending for larger allowances for the northwest, in spite of the liberal recommendations for Central, Columbus and Grand View, and provision for purchase of a northwest site for an intermediate or junior high school. He left the hall in high dudgeon when an amendment was lost which had been offered by Mr. Stermann and which Gray had supported that action on the recommendation for Glendale Avenue Intermediate be deferred until the consideration of the allowance for a northwest site to cost $30,000, although the policy recommended by the chairman that committee recommendations be considered by school by school as presented in the report, had been followed up to that time.

It was the only real friction developed during the meeting which otherwise proved quite harmonious and demonstrated the earnest desire of the citizens in attendance to relieve the school situation. It also demonstrated real, grateful appreciation of the faithful, efficient work of the advisory committee. Details of the meeting will be found elsewhere.

Mr. Pollard, organizer of District 12 and the official representative of the Boy Scout organization of America, was the speaker at the regular luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club held Thursday, which was well attended by members and covers were also laid for visiting Rotarians—James H. Cannon of Los Angeles, Jack Habbick of Ventura, W. C. Probert of Watpham, N. Dakota; J. Will Johnson of Pueblo, Colo., who is here for five months; Jim Shelton of Los Angeles; Ed Stafford of Marquette, Mich.; Col. James Everington, Scout Executive Harold Benner, Willard F. Yoe and Mr. Walters of this city.

Bill Tanner announced that he had sold cars to two Rotarians and as it is the policy of the club to fine such purchasers, he would be glad to pay the two assessments of $1 each, thereupon tendering the money. The members referred to whom the dollars were due were Jack Huntley and Bill Howe.

Mr. Walters of the Francis-Barnum-Walters company, which is subdividing Sparrow Heights, made a short talk on community service, and President Roy Kent announced an invitation from the Kiwanis club to join with them in an anniversary dinner February 9.

Three members—Dave Crofton, Francis Henry and Ernest Ford gave brief biographical sketches of their early lives.

Mr. Pollard's talk covered a short history of the organization, the principles it stands for, the spirit that has been put into it by organizers and leaders, to show why it should be backed by Rotarians.

The forces of the National Community Service have been in Glendale for several months. They have shown what should be done in this city, how it can be done, and the danger that may follow to the young of the city if it is not done. The Service has given an exhibition of clear-cut efficiency in organization of the entire community. Its leaders are here, ready to advance along the lines laid down for the welding of the whole community into one neighborly movement for the upholding of high standards and wholesome recreation.

Thus far it has been approved and applauded from pulpit to parent associations.

But the real test of the approval, the real willingness to continue the work must come in subscriptions to the $25 per plate dinner Monday night.

It will require from $2500 to $3000 to complete the budget, start the local organization, with its local personnel, into motion along the lines laid down.

The plates, while set at $25, represent a contribution to the budget of the Glendale Community Service of $24 each, so that the banquet itself will not be as elaborate as its price would indicate.

The success of the whole banquet and of the budget, of the continuing of Community Service here, rests upon three committees of Glendale organizations—the Kiwanis, the Rotary and the Exchange. At the head of these committees are Lyman P. Clark, Geo. B. Karr and Dr. Charles L. Marlenee.

They have shouldered the responsibility of selling the plates.

These committees are composed of some of Glendale's leading citizens, who are 100 per cent for community service and who invoked the faith of Glendale in itself and in Glendale's ability to get together.

There are many, however, whom they cannot reach, who would attend the banquet and many who wish to align with the best thought of the Community Service.

For the benefit of those the following list is given, that all may have the opportunity of becoming charter members of Glendale's initiation into Service for the Community:

Rotary campaign committee—Geo. B. Karr, Baldwin Shire Co., chairman, 1725 South Brand, Glendale 993-J; Dan Kelty of Cornwell & Kelty, Glendale 404; Jack Huntley, 1440 Highland avenue, Glendale 2297-M; C. C. Cooper, 302 North Central avenue, Glendale 1010; Rev. E. E. Ford of the Baptist church, Glendale 677-J; W. E. Hewitt of the Glendale laundry, Glendale 1630.

Exchange campaign committee—Dr. Charles L. Marlenee, chairman, 106 East Broadway, Glendale 198-R; Capt. D. Ripley Jackson of the Glendale postoffice, Glendale 144; W. B. Kelly, 106 West Colorado, Glendale 1411; W. C. Waring of the Army and Navy store, Glendale 1622-W; J. Howarth of the Harrower Laboratory, Glendale 43; Ed. Radke, jeweler, 109 South Brand, Glendale 2713.

More than 1,000 tickets at $1 per person have already been sold for the grand ball that will be given by the Glendale Firemen and Police Association at the L. O. O. F. hall on West Broadway on Friday, February 9th. Up to date the high man in the selling is Officer Colins, who has disposed of $200 tickets.

There is little doubt that the one hall will be too small to handle the crowd that will attend this event, and already preliminary arrangements are being made for the engaging of another hall and another orchestra. The suggestion has been made that, if the weather is suitable, a street dance be held on West Broadway and that a band be engaged to furnish music for this event.

In addition to the selling of tickets some of the prominent Glendaleans are making subscriptions to the fund of the Glendale Firemen and Police Association. The following list, which includes the names of those who have already made subscriptions, has been reported:

Glendale city council, $25; William Howe of the Glendale Theatre, $25; Jesse Smith, $20; Bent-Jay-Schoenemann Lumber company, $10; Fox-Woodsum Lumber company, $10; Litchfield Lumber company, $10; Independent Lumber company, $10; Glendale Lumber company, $10; Roy L. How the Bond Issue Was Voted to Relieve School Congestion

DETAILS OF THE MASS MEETING WHICH VOTED FOR THE BIG BOND ISSUE

Opponents to Measure Planned to Relieve Congestion Are Defeated by Overwhelming Sentiment of Taxpayers and Parents

The discussion at the mass meeting held in the Wilson Avenue school Thursday evening for the purpose of instructing the board of education in regard to the calling of a bond election to meet school needs, clarified the situation and demonstrated that good citizens who are willing to be shown, when they understand a proposition, are ready to do the right thing.

The chairman in the beginning had explained the work of the advisory committee and the growth of the city schools at the rate of about 800 per year, along with an average yearly increase in population of 7500. Said he:

"The board of education is one of the big organizations of this city, spending some $24,000 a year to keep the schools operating, and employing more than 125 teachers. It is something we ought to get behind." He reminded the audience of the serious responsibilities of the meeting and said an effort should be made "to stick closely to what we have in mind and to limit discussion to 5 minutes for any individual." He then announced that the recommendations would be taken up school by school. Alexander Mitchell moved the adoption of the Acacia avenue recommendations of $49,050 which carried unanimously. L. T. Rowley moved and Mr. Mitchell seconded, the adoption of the Broadway program of $32,850 which also carried unanimously. The motion to approve the Central avenue recommendations of $33,850 was also made by Mr. Mitchell and seconded by Mr. Wattles.

By this time Mr. Grey had become restless from inaction and when Cerritos avenue was reached charged that Mr. Mitchell was "the official mover" of the meeting. He registered an objection to the expenditure of anything more than would be necessary for repairs at Cerritos. In defense of the committee Superintendent R. D. White explained that the Cerritos two-story building is one of the oldest in the city and parents have been very reluctant to send their children to such a frame structure because of the fire risk; that it was the thought of the board and the committee to build a permanent unit which would do away with the necessity of using the second story. Mrs. Eustace B. Moore, president of the federation of P.T.A., mentioned her own anxieties in sending her children there and others supported her. O. G. Thompson said: "We don't think enough about the children and think too much about the cost. I think we ought to make provision for the children down there even though a few of them may live over the line. Their parents are probably spending their money in Glendale."

There was a call for an explanation of why the recommendations had been increased $60,000, and Mr. Hewitt and Mr. Wattles told of the report received from the county auditor to the effect that the bonding capacity of the Glendale elementary school district is now about $560,000. The committee therefore deemed it wise to include items originally incorporated in their survey which had been cut out, because they were supposed to be impossible, one such item being the site for a school in the northwest, and provision for the long promised permanent unit at the Cerritos campus. These explanations enlightened the meeting and on motion of Mr. Small, seconded by Mrs. Ernest Morgan, the proposed budget for Cerritos of $24,100 was adopted with about three dissenting votes.

Objections raised by Messrs. Grey and Street to recommendations for Magnolia were answered by Mr. White, Col. James Everington and W. C. Wattles. Mr. White explaining that the two rooms now on campus are used for kindergarten and first grade. The board desires to add three rooms; that second, third and fourth grades may be established there to obviate the necessity for young children in that section to go so far to school as they are obliged to do now. On motion of Mr. Small, seconded by Mrs. Morgan, the Magnolia recommendations of $32,550, carried with two dissenting votes.

Mr. Sutton, who said he lived in the Acacia district, was disposed to challenge some of the estimated costs and suggested the advisability of employing an expert to supervise the building program believing money could be saved. Arthur C. Brown pointed out that law had prescribed just how school boards must proceed by employing architects to prepare plans and specifications and then letting the contracts to the lowest bidders; that the estimates of the committee conformed to the cost of recent school buildings in Los Angeles and were probably not exaggerated. The chairman assured the audience no money which could be saved would be lost to the district. During this discussion Mr. Ziteleen, the shoe merchant, said: "I believe we need more schools. The people who are kicking about taxes have come here from Texas and other states where taxes were lower and have been glad of the chance to invest their money here." (Laughter and applause).

Mr. Sutton moved that the balance of the recommendations be adopted as a whole, and Mr. Siterman thought it a good time to tack onto that motion an amendment that $50,000 be added to the budget for a building on the proposed site in the northwest. Mr. Sutton then withdrew his motion and Mr. Siterman was declared out of order under the program to consider the auditorium as a prime necessity to the children, and the amendment when put to a vote was lost. Mr. Ferry's original motion then carried with two "noes" registered.

The acceptance of the Grand View budget of $24,450 was moved by Mr. Rowley and seconded by Mr. Wilkinson. Mr. Mitchell suggested that $25,000 be added for an auditorium which he said is much desired by the people of that district. Mr. Boen reminded him of the allowance for an intermediate site in the northwest where the auditorium would properly belong. Mr. Mitchell then asked for information about junior highs which was given by Superintendent White in a short talk in which he set forth the action by representatives of all the elementary schools tributary to the school district, asking the high school trustees to call an election at such time as seemed to them advisable, to vote bonds for the establishment of junior high schools throughout the district. He explained they would cover the 7th, 8th and 9th grades and be under the jurisdiction of the high school trustees and be financed with high school district funds. Mrs. Buckman explained that with this prospect in view the committee considered it wise to make no provision for a building until time should determine whether the northwest school would be an intermediate or a junior high.

The motion to accept the Grand View recommendations then carried unanimously, and so did the motion of Mr. Rudel to approve the Pacific avenue allowance of $6,500.

This cleared the way for the discussion of sites in Verdugo canyon and in the northwest. The chairman set forth the mounting values in that section and the unanimous agreement of the committee that the offer of a good site of about five acres for $13,600, should be accepted if possible. On motion of Principal George U. Moyse, seconded by Mr. Ziteleen, the recommendation carried.

The chairman then said the same argument relative to the advancing prices held good in the northwest where Mr. Mitchell had represented acre to be worth $10,000 and for the same reasons the committee favored an allowance of $30,000 to secure one of several ten-acre sites which had been mentioned as possible purchases.

J. C. Sherer suggested if the property was worth $10,000 an acre it would hardly be fair for the board to pay only $3,000, which of course drew a laugh and relieved the tension.

Mr. Wilkinson moved the acceptance of the recommendation for the northwest site and somebody seconded it, but Mr. Siterman had not yet acknowledged defeat and offered an amendment to recommend $50,000 additional for a building on the site, but there was no second and the original motion carried unanimously.

By this time the clock showed 10:30 and a motion to adjourn was gladly adopted following the vote of thanks to the committee.

COLUMBUS AVENUE P.T.A. HOLDS MEETING

The business meeting of the Columbus avenue Parent-Teacher association, of which Mrs. C. H. Thompson is president, was followed by a very interesting program given by talent drafted from the high school which included the following numbers: Violin solo, "Romance" (Svensen) by Thomas Wood, Jr.; piano number (MacDowell) by Shirley Fawkes, reading, "The Marionette," by June Hurlbert; song by a group of Glee club girls, "Hsheen" (Walter) and "The Owl and the Pussy Cat."

Richardson D. White was present and spoke about the mass meeting held last night. A short talk on Community Service was given by Mrs. Thompson. At the business session it was planned to have a "Fathers' Night" on February 15, at 7:30 o'clock. A patriotic program will be given by the children of the school. A committee, of which Mrs. Burton is chairman, was appointed to see about purchasing rugs for the kindergarten room. It was voted that the association would complete the payment on the phonograph which was recently purchased for use in the school. After the delightful program by the high school students, the members adjourned to the cafeteria, where delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. A. J. McBoyle, chairman, and the members of her hospitality committee. A social half-hour followed.

They also planned to hold one big bazaar before the holidays and will work on that during the year. The remainder of the afternoon was spent in sewing.

BANDIT QUEEN IS HOUNDED BY LAW

DENVER, COLO. Jan. 19.—Eva Lewis, once beautiful "bandit queen" of the famous Lewis gang, that terrorized the mid-west five years ago, lies near death in a little shanty on the outskirts of Denver. Hounded by the law since the recent mint robbery here, her family declares she has broken completely.

Eva is partially paralyzed and has lost the power of speech. For days she entirely lost her hearing. The girl—she is only 24—was recently paroled from the Colorado penitentiary, where she was serving a sentence for her part in the killing of two policemen by the Lewis gang near Colorado Springs two years ago.

The daring female member of the band once maintained in luxury by her associates as the "brains" of the gang, lies in the secluded shanty, literally half dead.

"No one wants us," her sister explains tearfully. "We've been driven from place to place like homeless dogs."

BIKE IS FOUND

A blue and white enameled bicycle was found by the Glendale police, at the rear of 145 South Brand boulevard. Anyone losing a bike of this style should confer with Chief Fraser.

The second lesson in polychrome work was taken up at the regular meeting of arts and crafts section No. 1 of the Tuesday Afternoon club, of which Mrs. Fred Deal is director, held in the art department of Pendroy's yesterday. The next meeting will be held at Tregea's studio on Harvard street near Brand. The lesson will be on lustre china painting.

GATEWAY MARKET TO CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY

The first anniversary of the Gateway Market at San Fernando Road and Brand Boulevard will be celebrated in a very fitting manner on Saturday, January 20, according to Claude Caswell, manager. A number of special events have been planned which will make it a gala day for the customers and visitors, who will be guests of the market on that day.

An interesting program of music by Harold Brown's Orchestra, interspersed with song numbers, has been provided for the occasion. This musical program will be between 4 o'clock and 7, during which refreshments in the nature of a hot lunch will be served. The lunch will include hot sandwiches made with pork sausage for which Caswell is famous, and Parker House rolls made by the bakery department, and coffee.

As a special feature each department of the market is offering unusual bargains for Saturday. In the meat department $5 in Bankee stamps will be given with every whole slab of bacon sold, and with every ham sold there will be given a half pound of Puritan sliced bacon.

In order that the first big anniversary celebration may be a huge success the Tompkins Drug Store, Wilson-Bell Hardware and Baldwin Shirt company, who also occupy stores in the Gateway Market building, are lending their efforts.

PACIFIC AVE. P.T.A.
HOLDS BIG MEETING

The meeting of the Pacific Avenue P.T.A. held at the school Thursday afternoon was very well attended.

After leading the salute to the flag and the singing of America, Mrs. Harry McMullin, patriotic chairman, announced that a patriotic program would feature the February meeting, and asked all members to come prepared to recite "America's Creed."

Mrs. Harry Bogan announced the bazaar to be held by the P.T.A. Federation, February 23, and stated that the pie booth had been assigned to Pacific Avenue association.

Under the count of mothers the first picture went to Mrs. Longley's room for the coming month and the second picture to Miss Circle's room.

Two piano solos were played by Robert Moore of the fourth grade. Don Orput gave a talk on Community Service, emphasizing its importance to the community and referring to the $25 dinner. Superintendent Richardson D. White endorsed Mr. Orput's talk on the value of the work, particularly to young people after their graduation from the high school. Mr. White also urged attendance on the mass meeting relative to a bond election for a school building program dwelling upon the urgent needs of the schools.

Harry James gave monologues which were enthusiastically received, and Mrs. John Cotton made an informal talk on the process of etching exhibiting some beautiful examples of her husband's work. Her explanations excited great interest and drew many questions.

Following the program, tea and wafers were served in the court.

BROADWAY FATHERS TO GIVE PROGRAM
ON JANUARY 23

Fathers of the Broadway P.T.A. have arranged an elaborate program for the entertainment to be given by them at the school next Tuesday evening, January 23, in the school auditorium. It will begin promptly at 8 o'clock and will include numbers by the following artists:

Verne Isom, violin solo, with Miss Helene Constance Morgan at the piano; Mrs. Lydia Rehberg, readings; Miss Vera Schlotzhauser and Mr. Reed, vocal duet; Harry James, monologues; Oliver J. Gaboury, waltz clog and soft shoe dance; Miss Joy Lietch, Grecian dance; Adeline Woodbury, toe dance; Spencer Robinson, vocal solo with Mrs. Robinson at piano; Mrs. John D. Cole, vocal solo; R. M. Ferguson, "An Announcement." The numbers will be followed by a program of games directed by Mrs. Mae Rosenberg and Mrs. J. C. Whytock, of Community Recreation Service.

Refreshments will be served at the close of the evening by the fathers. Tickets have been fixed at 25 cents for children and 35 cents for adults.

Stern Stages Big DRIVE IN SOUND
APPLES

Jonathan and Spitzenberg apples will be sold at $1.25 per box Saturday at Stern's Fruit Emporium, on the way to the Glendale city park.

Stern has a habit of selling fruits/vegetables, jams, marmalade, etc., at prices that are a revelation to those who are fortunate to stop at his fruit stand in offering apples at $1.25 per box he is scoring another "beat" on many of his competitors.

The reason for this slash in apple prices may be told in about a word.

So successful has Stern been in his fruit and vegetable business that he has decided to take on a complete grocery line. He has devised a method whereby he can secure groceries at 75 per cent of the wholesale cost and these he intends to pass on to the public at wholesale prices. This new branch of Mr. Stern's business will be put into effect about the middle of February.

SO. CALIF. GAS CO. EMPLOYEES HEAR OF STOCK OFFER

A meeting of the employees of the Glendale District of the Southern California Gas company recently was addressed by Comptroller A. E. Peat, who explained the company's plan for offering its 6% cumulative preferred stock to the public, and at the same time gave some interesting facts relative to the company's history and growth.

Upon being interviewed following the meeting Mr. Peat said: "Many of the employees announced their intention of purchasing some of the stock themselves and pledged their whole-hearted support to the company in helping to make the offering a big success."

"Although this is the first time that stock of the Southern California Gas Company has been offered for public subscription in Southern California, the bonds of the company are very popular with the investing public. There are over 4,000 individual bondholders of whom more than 3,400 live in the state of California and more than two-thirds of these people live in Southern California. Ninety-five and one-half per cent of all the bonds sold since March, 1921, were sold in the state of California. Average individual bondholders are $2,350. The part played by the small investor will be seen when it is stated that there are 1300 $500 bonds outstanding."

Mr. Peat also pointed out the advantage to smaller communities of service rendered by a well-managed, well-financed utility company as contrasted with that rendered by some of the smaller local companies and the benefits to an investor from the standpoint of safety of his investment where the business of a company covers a number of communities and thus the value of an investment is not affected by minor disturbances of a purely local nature.

RESEARCH NURSES THANKED FOR AID TO POLICEMEN

The work of Miss Hazel Aldrich and Miss Gwynn Griffin, nurses, formerly of the Glendale Research hospital, in giving their time and services entirely free of charge in the nursing of Officers Claxton and Connors, who suffered severe illnesses recently, is being highly commended by the members of the Glendale Police and Firemen's Relief association.

These young ladies worked night and day in their effort to be of service to the afflicted officers.

BROTHERHOOD TO HAVE BANQUET

The monthly meeting of the Brotherhood of the First M. E. church will be held this evening. Sandwiches and coffee banquet at 6:30, followed by address by Rev. J. C. Livingston, pastor of the Casa Verdugo church, and O. D. Courcy, assistant superintendent of the Union Mission of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. VanDyke of 406 West Lexington Drive, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Beideman and son, enjoyed a motor trip to Santa Barbara over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fox, Miss Alice Merritt and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Tanner of Glendale are planning to enjoy a dinner and theatre party in Los Angeles tonight.

REALTY BOARD DENOUNCES ALL CORPORATIONS

President of State Ass'n.
Declares Opposition to Public Service Propaganda.

"As long as I am president of the California Real Estate Association," said Frazier O. Reed, of San Jose, "no money will be accepted from any public service corporation or any other organization to influence the actions of this organization. I believe that this association should get all the money it can so long as it is clean."

This statement was made at the meeting of the Glendale Realty Board Thursday noon, in a discussion on the subject of whether the public corporations of the state should be permitted to take out associate memberships in the association, and thereby augment the funds in the treasury of the state organization.

"You realtors today," continued Mr. Reed, "have passed a resolution which opposes the proposition of accepting donations from public service corporations. We all know that it takes a lot of money to run an organization like the California Real Estate Association. Last year it took $33,000 to run this organization. This year it will take more. I am opposed to taking money from the organizations. However, gentlemen, money must be forthcoming to pay for the operating of our organization. If we eliminate the corporations it will be a question of all of the realtors of the state joining the state organizations. Every one of your 63 members should belong to the state organization."

During the discussion on the motion as to whether or not the resolution as suggested should be adopted, W. A. Horn and Dr. Jessie A. Russell spoke in favor of its passage.

Following is the resolution on this question adopted by the Pasadena Realty Board, and which, in effect, was approved by the Glen-

DIRECT ACTION SCHOOL OF DOMESTIC SCIENCE
OPENS AT COKER AND TAYLOR'S STORE

No longer is there any need of the housewives of Glendale turning out the "sinker" variety of doughnuts or of producing pies and cakes that make good kindling. A remedy for this very prevalent evil is being provided by the Coker & Taylor company, 209 South

Brand boulevard.

In a room set apart by this establishment a domestic science school will be inaugurated Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The subject of the first lesson will be "How to bake a layer cake," and Mrs. E. A. Border, who has had extensive experience as a cook and chef and who will have complete charge of the school, will be on hand to show the women of Glendale how the two or three-story structure should be "built."

Mrs. Border knows the cooking "game" from one end to the other.

fellow, that we shall solicit and accept financial aid in large or in any amounts from the four gas companies—California, Edison, Southern Pacific, Pacific Electric, Los Angeles Railway company—several of whose officers he reports having seen, and other public service corporations, is fraught with grave danger to the success and usefulness of the association, and that loss of public confidence therein is inevitable.

"We desire, therefore, to state that we deplore the apparent use of our association in the last cause in the interest of public service corporations.

"We also feel that the suggestion, at Santa Ana convention, by one of our popular former residents, a live wire, bootstraps convincing that to place the California Real Estate Association under possible suspicion of building up a powerful political organization in any degree controlled by the public service corporations, to whom we should in accepting donations from them, place ourselves under embarrassing obligation; is unwise, if indeed it is not suicidal.

"And be it further resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to the president and board of directors of the California Real Estate Association and to each affiliated board, and that same be

"Therefore, be it resolved, That the Pasadena Realty board in regular session assembled, does hereby go on record as being firmly spread upon our minutes."

SOCIALISM IS CLASS SUBJECT IN YUCATAN

By FREDERICK G. NEUMEIER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

MEXICO CITY, Mexico (By mail to United Press)—No other state in the world has educational laws as has Yucatan, the "Land of Topsy Turvy."

Socialists of this state of Mexico who are in control of the government, have established a rationalist school.

Among the features of the rationalist school law is a provision that the study of civics must not be limited to the rights of citizens, etc., but must embrace knowledge of the rules of social welfare as contained in Article 123 of the Mexican constitution and also the moral idea contained in Article 27 of the same constitution, "that private property must be done away with each and every time that it becomes a peril to society."

These two provisions in the federal law are the ones that are objected to by Washington.

The rationalist school law also provides that there shall not be any more religious primary schools and that priests and persons of nonsectarian orders shall not have anything to do with teaching.

Following the passage of the rationalist school law, another act was passed in April, 1922, which provides for the reorganization of the normal schools of the state. It is an act which provides for schools "to prepare the teachers to be able to teach on the basis on which rests socialist aspirations and also to be able to teach in conformity with the rationalist law."

Provision is also made for the establishment of a "social department" for the teachers which will be a sort of laboratory "to inform the teachers about the organization of socialist parties of the world, syndicates, trade unions, labor parties, co-operatives, workers' legislation and the progress of communism in Russia."

Another article in this law provides that "under no condition must artistic education be overlooked. There must be developed in the youth profound sentiment for the beautiful, truth and good."

NEW U. S. SUPREME COURT JUSTICE

Justice Pierce Butler

RUSH OF HERRING

GLASGOW, (By Mail).—The largest shoals of herrings in thirty years have appeared in Solway Firth, south of here, at Maryport and Workington; the fish came close in shore. Scores of fishermen waded in and scooped up the squirming visitors with bare hands. The kippered herring business is booming.

It isn't the question of who's got the button, but how many she's got.

BIG REWARD FOR CATTLE KILLING INVENTION

In an effort to minimize as far as possible the suffering of animals at the moment of giving their lives for the benefit of mankind, the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals of New York offers a prize of ten thousand dollars for a new device or apparatus which will best accomplish the humane slaughtering of animals for food purposes.

More justice to the rights of animals demands that every animal slaughtered for Gentile consumption should be rendered completely and permanently unconscious before being subjected to any process which, if the animal were conscious, would cause pain and suffering. All should be stunned before the knife is used.

The present practice in the larger abattoirs is to strike the forehead of beef animals with a sledge or hammer. If the blow were always accurately directed, and with sufficient force, there would be no great objection to this method of stunning, but with butchers, as with all other men engaged in human endeavors, all are not equal in skill, strength or reliability in directing the blow. To become an expert in stunning requires constant practice, and it is important to remember that these dumb creatures furnish the subject for this practice. It is horrible to contemplate the suffering of animals before the butchers become expert, or even afterwards, as the restlessness of the animals and the uncertainty of the blow, often prevent the first blow, and even the third or fourth, from reaching the vital spot. In the case of thick-skinned cattle, often the blows of the hammer in the hands of even a skillful and strong man are not sufficient to cause even a temporary stunning until the skull bones are broken through by repeated blows.

The society also offers a second prize of $5000 for a new device or apparatus which will, to the greatest possible extent, lessen or completely eliminate the suffering involved in the present methods of casting and securing food animals prior to the use of the knife as practiced in the slaughtering of cattle for the Jewish market. As at present conducted, the operation of casting an animal involves a great amount of suffering, owing to its being thrown heavily and then hoisted by chains attached to its legs.

With a view to bringing about the invention of some still better devices for casting and stunning animals than those so successfully and generally used in Europe, these prizes are offered by the society.

Circulars giving the terms of the competitions, which close April 30, 1923, may be had by addressing the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, 50 Madison Avenue, New York.

SOME MUTTON

Last year inspectors of the Department of Agriculture passed on the health of 25 million head of sheep. They gave special attention to the presence of scabie, a parasitic disease that causes a great deal of loss to ranchers if it is allowed to gain headway in flocks. Nearly 9 million of these sheep were ordered dipped to destroy the parasites. The disease is found in a number of western range states, but the work of livestock health officials is resulting in great improvement.

GUTHRIE COMPANY PLANTS ACACIAS IN GRAND VIEW

The Charles B. Guthrie company has just completed the planting of several hundred "Silver Wattie" Acacia trees (Dealbata and Baileyana) in the parkways of West Kenneth Square. This tract is on the high side of Kenneth road at Western avenue.

The trees were all selected as to size and shape and have been carefully planted so as to add their beauty to this high class foothill property. With the early completion of the pavement on Kenneth road, west of Grand View avenue, the Grand View district will develop rapidly, for many people are beginning to realize that there is no nicer foothill property in Southern California than in the northwestern part of our own city.

Truths in Epigram

For ease and speed in doing a thing do not give the work lasting solidity or exactness of beauty. Plutarch.

Gratitude is a fruit of great cultivation; you do not find it among gross people.—Dr. Johnson.

PINING FOR A CAREER

Many a young woman is said to hesitate at marriage because of a belief that she is entitled to a career. This is said so often as to cause some curiosity as to what is supposed to constitute a career, whether it leads, and who is the proper claimant.

If the spell of genius so suffuses the individual that in her mind is no room for consideration of anything but the accomplishment of whatever this prompts, there is no use of stopping to consider turning aside. There could be no real turning aside. The natural bent would be followed. But why should a career, so-called, be regarded as apart from all of the engagements of the normally active life? An artist of talent quite mediocre, a singer with a voice that never is to win fame, may decide upon a career, casting aside the opportunity for having a home. This means to her a later season of loneliness, and a desolate old age, unless she discovers her error in time.

The late Lillian Russell will be admitted to have had a career. She earned money and fame. She had the admiration and esteem of the public to the day of her death. Yet she had displayed no hesitancy as to the risks of matrimony. Her maturer years were spent happily as the wife of a man who adored her.

Mrs. Rinehart is a prolific writer of the first class. Her work is in constant demand, and she names her own price. To her, home life is the prime consideration, and she glories in a happy motherhood, conscious that her sons are proud of her. She has had a career, without doubt, and still pursues it.

Many men who have become famous have been stimulated by their wives to reach heights of endeavor they never could have reached alone. The man who would check the impulse of affection because of a prospective career, would be looked upon as unutterably selfish, and an intellectual prig.

What then is a "career"? Often it is a fantasy, not worth the sacrifice made on its behalf. The average person is not going to have an experience that may be rated as a "career" at all. Moderate success may be attained, but the ambition to excel and to dazzle, generally is one element of a futile dream.

ONE COMMON PLANE

Vast differences are recognized in the methods of thought as between races widely diverse, geographically, and nurtured on separate traditions. It is no secret that the Oriental and Occidental minds do not function on a common plane. What to one seems the absolute truth does not so appeal to the other. They cannot get the same view, for they are unable to look from the same angle. To one an act may be moral, and to the other, an expression of basic depravity. It is possible that the Turk is as remote as the Asiatic from the mental process of the white races.

It may be that the Japanese and the Turk still perceive the necessity and virtue of war. The members of the white races are getting more and more to abhor the idea of war. In the United States the demand for preparedness is solely that war may be averted. Yet in Europe more men are under arms than before the great conflict, the echoes of which scarce have died away. They are pictured as eager to rush into battle. It is logical to believe that the picture is falsely drawn. Europe has had to fight until the land is marred by areas of desolation.

There are millions of graves, dug for the best and bravest. It seems absurd that the survivors should be demanding more desolation and more millions of graves; more years of terror, promotive of famine, pestilence and perhaps utter ruin. It cannot be that the people who have to bear arms are such fools as that.

In Greece the cabinet forced a war. The war failed, the cabinet fell, and its members were shot by orders of the succeeding authority. This was no indication that war is the cherished ideal. In Bulgaria a measure was passed that a cabinet forcing the country to war should forfeit their lives. No tribute this, to the beauty of war. It would seem to be time for the intriguers, the politicians, the bogus claimants to thrones or to high places, to take warning. An outraged people might adopt the scheme of Greece and Bulgaria. Europe is in misery because it has been unable to stifle the military spirit, and get back to work. Were it to use common sense, disband its armies, and resume industrial activity, most of its problems would vanish.

ANOTHER IMMIGRATION PROBLEM

It appears that in military embroilments involving the Lithuanians many active participants are "Americans." That is to say, they are natives of Lithuania who came to this country and were here taken into citizenship. Here they received their business opportunity, and much of their education. In this country they acquired fortunes. With their fortunes they went back overseas, technically Americans still, but really not Americans at all. It seems considerable to ask even of this generous country that it give the incoming alien everything, and in the end receive from him nothing. If he had learned devotion to American institutions, if he had been touched by love of the country bestowing benefactions, his impulse would have been to remain, and if never quite wholeheartedly an American himself, to afford his children a chance to be Americans.

When a man by title American, and in principle, of another nationality, goes back to Europe, and there mixes into the prevalent turmoil, his borrowed citizenship could hardly be employed to protect him. One captured as a Lithuanian soldier, for example, and setting up the claim of being an American, would be getting more consideration than really deserved, if he could call upon the United States to come to his rescue.

All over Europe, in Italy, in Turkey, in Greece, are naturalized Americans, living on the money they were permitted to earn here and carry back with them. If their American citizenship is recognized, after this deliberate abandonment of it in all but form, there are a thousand chances for the United States to become embarrassed by European activities in which this country ought to have no part, its proper role being limited to that of spectator.

Reports of deaths due directly to the drinking of wood alcohol seem to increase. The stuff kills three men in New York at about the same time it is killing two and blinding two more in San Fernando. When men are so anxious for liquor that they will risk life and vision for it, there perhaps is no way to check the habit until it has killed off all of that particular type.

Only one of the robbers who raided the mint at Denver has been found, and he was dead of a bullet received on that occasion. However, this ties the score, and is a sort of comfort. Besides, it proves that there had been an effort to oppose the marauders, a matter concerning which some doubt had been expressed.

Prizefighting is an ignoble business. Its influence is bad. The average follower of the game is pretty poor stuff from the standpoint of citizenship. The usual ring event is a crooked affair, the outcome arranged in advance. Yet a young prizefighter named Dempsey has a million dollars' worth of Los Angeles real estate, all due to the fact that he knows how to use his fists.

GREATENING OUR SOULS

By DR. FRANK CRANE

H. E. Fosdick says that one of the most picturesque images of the present crisis was given us by Bergson, the French philosopher.

It is in effect that the chief work of science has been to enlarge man's body.

Telescopes and microscopes have increased the power of our eyes; telephones have stretched our hearing to some three thousand miles; telegraphs have made our voices sound around the earth; locomotives and steamship lines, better than seven-league boots of ancient fable, have multiplied the speed and power of our feet; and French big guns have elongated the blows of our fists from two to twenty-five miles. Man never had such a body since the world began. The age of the giants was nothing compared with this. But man's soul there the failure lies. We have not grown spirits great enough to handle our greatness. The splendid new powers which science furnishes are still in the hands of the old sins—greed, selfish ambition, cruelty.

There are two aspects to progress. Every advance in invention that gives man added power over nature may be used either constructively or destructively. The explosive power of gases will excavate tunnels and foundations and also make bombs for big Berthas. Poison gas may destroy insects and vermin or human beings. Airplanes may benefit commerce by rapid transit or may furnish a deadlier means of war.

When the man's arm is lengthened and strengthened, it may enable him to be of greater help in increasing the sum of human happiness or it may make of him a more terrible monster.

When you sharpen the axe you do not change the quality of its steel and when you give a man scientific knowledge or any great talent you have not necessarily made him a better man.

The thinking part of the world is beginning to see that the safety of the human race or any part of it does not lie in thickening our armor nor lengthening our sword. It lies in changing the quality of man's heart and purpose.

All talk of defense by armies and navies or any other manifestation of brute force is fallacious. Our only defense is of the spirit.

France, for instance, will never be safe from Germany until it has made a friend of Germany, although there will have to be a great many distinguished funerals before that comes to pass.

Those who imagine that the safety of a great country depends upon its police and prisons are mistaken. Its only real defense consists in the moral inhibitions of the people in it. If every one was intent to do crime, not all the police nor all the armies of the world could prevent the city from rushing to ruin.

The greatest work that lies before the world is the greatness of the soul. For if that work is not done the greatness of the body will mean our destruction.

THE LISTENING POST

By James W. Foley

The bullfrog and the lizard were talking things over.

In a friendly way.

They were relatives.

Their ancestors had been closely related.

But time and change and travel had had their effect.

And now the bullfrog and the lizard were no more than distant cousins.

But they talked something the same language.

And were able to understand each other.

Although their tastes differed.

For the lizard had gotten away from the swamp and water age and had taken to the sandy wastes.

And the bullfrog remained near his ancestral waters.

It is so with most of us.

We are affected by time and change and environment.

We are colored by the kind of life we live.

The kind of place we live in.

The circumstances about us.

Just as races are colored and changed with climate.

The dog reared in the tropics loses most of his hair.

For hair is only an embarrassment and discomfort to him.

Then our wishes and desires are colored by our circumstances.

Where the self-interest of us manifests itself.

And it was so with the bullfrog and the lizard.

Each was striving toward his own survival.

Just as men have done from immemorial time.

Just as men do today.

So the bullfrog croaked for his rain.

And the lizard squeaked for his hot and dry weather.

That is because you are not a lizard," replied the lizard. "I do not see how anybody could want rain and wet all the time."

"That is because you were never a bullfrog," replied the bullfrog.

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache Often Means
You Have Not Been Drinking
Enough Water

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it may mean you have been eating foods which create acids, says a well-known authority. As excess of such acids overworks the kidneys—in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels, removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithium, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the system so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithium water drink. Drink lots of soft water. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year. Adv.

BIG FIGHT ON BOLL WEEVIL TO START

By DON H. HINGA
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 19.—Far-reaching emergency measures to check the spread of the boll weevil which has developed into an international menace, threatening the economic stability of the world, will be put into action soon, according to Harvie Jordan, secretary of the American Cotton Association.

An organization of cotton producers, and manufacturers, federal and state agricultural bureaus, and the leading scientists of America will be united in a concerted campaign to stamp out the insect pest, which is threatening the existence of the cotton industry of the world he said.

The boll weevil campaign, which will have its headquarters in Atlanta, and will be national in scope, will involve the immediate raising of a fund of $2,500,000 to fight the pest. From this office the movement, which will have a vital influence on extensive industrial, commercial and financial interests throughout the world, will be directed.

World Cotton Famine

The virtual certainty of a world cotton famine within a very few years, which will upset the American balance of trade and cause widespread suffering in the cotton belt and manufacturing sections, has made it vitally important that the largest crop possible be raised in 1923, Jordan declared. For this reason active campaigning to raise the necessary funds and start the work of education and research will be gotten under way immediately.

An independent research bureau, which will devote its entire time to the discovery of means of controlling or eradicating the boll weevil, has already been started. Dr. Miller Reese Hutchison, of New York, formerly chief engineer for Thomas A. Edison and his personal representative, will have charge of the bureau. He is already at work upon the personnel and organization of a group of trained scientists who will work under him toward eradicating the weevil.

The campaign will be two-fold—educational and research. One-half of the $2,500,000 fund will be devoted toward augmenting work already done by federal and state agencies and agricultural colleges, in teaching farmers methods of weevil eradication. The other half will finance the investigations of scientists who will seek to find the answer to the boll weevil problem, which has so far proven baffling.

Existing agencies for boll weevil investigation have proffered their aid to the newer and more extensive movement. Under the new plan, form demonstration work will be carried out on a more extensive scale than has been attempted before and in every cotton growing county in the south, personal work will be done to obtain the aid of planters in the fight.

Propagation of known methods of boll weevil prevention will be carried out, so as to reach every planter possible throughout the cotton belt while scientists investigate in an effort to discover a "cure all" for the pest.

"The boll weevil has become an international menace," Jordan said. "The world is practically dependent upon the United States for its supply of the principal material for the manufacture of clothing, and the boll weevil is threatening the production of raw cotton for this industry, in which billions of dollars are invested. Unless the boll weevil is conquered, we are facing a catastrophe that will involve not only the south, but the entire nation, England, and other foreign countries."

DAIRY MANUFACTURING

Men now engaged in dairy manufacturing plants in California should seek further knowledge and technical training in dairying if they are to make the best progress in their future work. The Short Courses at the University of California farm at Davis, which are to be held this year from February 5 to February 15, are given expressly for experienced men engaged in dairy manufacturing plants.

The course for Milk Plant Operators includes instruction suitable for distributors of market milk and for the men who are employed in that branch of dairying. The separate courses given for butter makers, cheese makers and ice cream makers will bring a large group of practical men to the University farm.

The state of California has been exceedingly generous in providing the new Dairy Industry building, and equipment, which has just been completed. The construction of the building is the culmination of five years' planning, which included a study of all important dairy industry buildings in this country.

NEW ALFALFA

Recent experiments reported by the University of California College of Agriculture show that both "Hairy Peruvian" and "Smooth Peruvian" alfalfa are very excellent producers of hay. In Imperial Valley Chilean yielded 19,640 pounds per acre, Hairy Peruvian 19,369 pounds, and Smooth Peruvian 24,589 pounds. At Kearney Park, Fresno county, the yields were even better, with Chilean 38,312 pounds in seven cuttings, Hairy Peruvian 39,517 pounds, and Smooth Peruvian 39,964 pounds per acre.

Seed of these varieties is not offered by all leading seed stores. Growers interested in alfalfa culture should find the correspondence course on the subject, offered by the College of Agriculture, quite helpful. Full details will be sent upon request to the college at Berkeley.

"Well, ye see," panted Pat, "it was better runnin' on the track."

DYNAMOS ON THE DEAD SEA

Plans for the electrification of Palestine by raising the level of the Sea of Galilee and harnessing the historic River Jordan, involving an initial expenditure of $10,000,000, are described in “Palestine—Its Commercial Resources with Particular Reference to American Trade,” by Addison E. Southard, American consul at Jerusalem, just published by the Department of Commerce. The same project calls for the canalization of the Jordan valley from the Sea of Galilee to the Dead Sea, where under irrigation, it is expected that copious crops of dates, rice, sugar cane, flax, and cotton can be produced. Provision for 2,000 miles of motor highways, commercialization of the Bagdad-Cairo air route, traversing Syria, and agricultural credit banks are among the other innovations contemplated in the modernization of the Holy Land, as related by Mr. Southard.

With a population of only 700,000 Palestine already imports $20,000,000 worth of commodities a year, and serves as a trading base for a population of more than 3,000,000 people in Asia Minor. Imports from the United States into Palestine have grown from an insignificant value of $291,990 in 1913 to $1,990,504 in 1921, and in the opinion of Mr. Southard this region is bound to become an important market for American wares as the population and industrial development of the country increases. Clothing and textile piece goods, coffee, flour, furniture, gasoline and kerosene, metal manufactures, machinery, motor cars and accessories, rubber goods, shoes and boots, figure among the imports from the United States, with a growing demand especially for cotton piece goods and for petroleum products, about 90 per cent. of which now come from America. Ways and means of increasing sales of American goods are detailed by Mr. Southard in his concise but comprehensive 64-page report which covers all phases of social, commercial, and industrial life.

The report may be obtained from any district office of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, or from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. The price is 10 cents.

Mike jumped from the track, but Pat dropped his shovel and took to his heels in front of the train. The engineer whistled, but Pat kept running, and finally rolled off the rails just as the train was about to run him down. "Why didn't ye git off the track, ye fool?" demanded Mike. "Well, ye see," panted Pat, "it was better runnin' on the track."

Foley's Friendly Fancies

AN UNUSUAL CHUM
Henry Blake's father goes fishing with him, And goes in the creek so's to teach him to swim; He talks to him just like they're awful close chums And sometimes at night he helps Henry do sums; And once he showed Henry how he used to make A basket by whittling a peach stone and take The bark off of willows for whistles although He hadn't made one since a long time ago.

Henry Blake's father is just like his chum, And when he goes fishing he lets Henry come; He fixes two seats on the bank of the brook And shows Henry how to put frogs on his hook; And sometimes he laughs in the jolliest way At some little thing that he hears Henry say, And dips up a drink in his hat like you do When only just boys go a-fishing with you.

Henry Blake's father will take him and stay Somewhere in the woods for a big holiday And wear his old clothes and bring home a big sack Of hick'ries and walnuts to help Henry crack; And sit on a dead log somewhere in the shade To eat big sandwiches his mother has made; And Henry Blake's father, he don't seem as though He's more than his uncle, he likes Henry so!
